

BE TISLS

school life and community

3RD. EDITION

July 2021

Three months ago, we faced the challenge of reopening our school, adopting a hybrid model that combines in-person and remote learning. Today we are proud to resume the sports activities, prioritizing a safe environment for all members of our community. It accomplishes a new step in our planning to promote and assure a comprehensive development to our students, who have successfully adapted to the pandemic context. In this new edition of Be TISLS, the first one in English, we invite you to read more about these milestones and the committed job we are developing to provide quality education in a proper space for academic formation.

MEETING AGAIN

THREE MONTHS

On July 19th, we completed three months since we came back to school. This reopening process has required an enormous effort in time, energy and resources, but mainly a deep commitment from the whole community. Let's see how we have done it in the following link.

ACADEMIES

THEY'RE BACK!

Our extracurricular activities are back. As a result of the sanitary measures introduced and everyone's commitment, it has been possible to resume a traditional area in our educational program that contributes to the holistic development of young people: sports. Soccer, basketball, yoga and gym are part of the activities we offer this time to our children.

JANITORS

PRICELESS WORK

Our janitors are doing a priceless work at school, as the main responsables of the implementation of sanitary measures in classrooms, playgrounds and common spaces at TISLS. Always with a smile and commitment, they have adapted their daily duties to keep all of us safe in this pandemic situation. Learn more about their work here.

LITERARY WEEK AT TISLS

THE JOY OF READING

Through different activities we commemorated a new Literary week at TISLS. An opportunity to interact and exchange experiences around reading with our students of different levels, promoting and encouraging literature, writing and reading, in every member of our school community.

It all started with a mysterious dinosaur that, through a video, invited us to follow closely all of the surprises our teachers from the Language, Philosophy and Communication Department prepared for us.

During a whole week, writers like Julio Cortázar, Gabriela Mistral and Simone De Beauvoir filled TISLS' hallways, classrooms and playgrounds, leaving in our students, the invitation to imagine and travel through books and reading.

WHAT DO YOU READ?

During our TISLS Literary week, we invited you to share your favorite readings with our school community. In this links below, you can review part of the videos we recieved, and some interesting greetings our school's friends sent us, talking about their special relationship with books. Click on them!

STORYTELLERS

Two nice and caring grandparents visited our school durins TISLS' Literary week. We're talking about grandma Espetusalalia de la Santisima Candelaria and grandpa Rosalindo del Campo Lindo, who narrated an interested story yo our younger students to encourage reading. Check it out!
